As the largest operating company in the integrated TransLink enterprise, Coast Mountain Bus Company (CMBC) operates over 96 percent of Greater Vancouver’s bus services. This includes a fleet of state-of-the-art clean-fuel diesel buses, conventional and community shuttle buses, zero-emission trolley buses and passenger ferry SeaBuses in Metro Vancouver, the largest single transit service area in Canada.

With a strong vision to build a better place to live based on transportation excellence, CMBC connects the region and enhances its liveability by delivering close to 100 million service kms yearly to the municipalities and cities in the region.

Reporting to the Vice President, Maintenance, the Director, Infrastructure Engineering directs the Infrastructure Engineering Department with related accountability for all CMBC facilities, trolley overhead, development, engineering, implementation, maintenance and other related services.

This includes the development, implementation and oversight of policies and procedures relating to facilities and asset maintenance programs, and other engineering/capital projects related services. The Director leads, directs, motivates and acts as a steward and change agent for the group’s approach to the infrastructure program and project management.

Furthermore, the Director oversees all people management for union and exempt staff, addressing human capital/training needs, and developing departmental succession plans.

The ideal candidate is a seasoned leader and strategic thinker, with strong people management skills and a demonstrated ability to build and lead innovative change programs and initiatives.

This individual is an experienced and hands-on senior leader who is comfortable managing many different priorities concurrently, and is adept at moving agendas forward in a multi-stakeholder environment.

Complementing a minimum of ten years’ experience with an extensive background in facilities maintenance and infrastructure capital asset program management, the ideal candidate is progressive, brings outstanding team-building skills and applies sustainable best practices. In addition, the candidate will exercise sound judgement in decision making, be politically and culturally astute, and possess the presence and stature to earn credibility and build relationships throughout the entire organization.
